

When you said "Meaning you must know who wrote it or " I understood you meant me. but consciousness makes one too quick. Had I been sure I would have acknowledged directly. Had you said "M. Did you write this" I'd have said yes. I was afraid you might at length upon the whole disbelieve it, or I wd have told you at first I was the author. This was my diffidence. — or so so so.
